THE DEAL UNFOLDING.

The Action of the Grace Convention Last Night Indicates that It Is On.
GOFF NOT LIKELY TO ACCEPT.

Doesn't Care to Be Used as a Cleak for the Moves of Machine Men.

AND THE LXX. MAY INTERFERE.

A Bare Chance that It May Refuse to Admit Grace Men to the Conference.

The deal is on. The first moves have been made in accordance with the plan of campaign agreed upon between Candidate David Bennett Hill and William R. Grace, as outlined in the 8 O'Clock Edition of "The Evening World" yesterday.

The publication of the terms of the deal is a disconcerting effect upon the parties to it, particularly on the keepers of the Tiger, which is to be offered up as a temporary sacrifice on the Altar of Harmony.

Mayor Gilroy was thrown into a panic when it became known through "The Evening World's" publication that his leadership wasn't strong enough to cope with Senator Hill's generosity, and that as a part of the plan he was to be deprived of the privilege of naming a Tammany ticket.

He was even more put out when, as a result of Senator Hill's shrewd maneuvering, he was shorn of the greater part of his political power at the meeting of Tammany's Executive Committee, and a Committee of Eight was named to carry out Tammany's part in the deal. It needs only the statement that the Mayor's arch political enemy and rival, Henry D. Purroy, was named as a member of that Committee to show how much Mr. Gilroy suffers this Committee of Eight decided to postpone the holding of Tammany's Congressional and Assembly Conventions until such time as the Deal had been put through. That was the first public move by the Hill Harmonizers.

Some Political Straws.
The next move was made by the Grace-Fairchild men in their County Convention. Instead of simply naming a committee to confer with the LXX., and then advising without mention of candidates, as the other anti-Tammany organizations did, Mr. Grace's Convention first made a public announcement of its choice for Mayor, and then named a conference committee that will insist upon this choice and no other. This is an indication that the Grace men are in the Deal to stay, and that they propose to carry out their instructions to force Republicans out of the LXX. conference to-night, and so compel them to name a straight ticket. John W. Goff is the State Democracy's "open" choice for Mayor, but it is pretty safe to assume that he will have no part in a Deal to which Tammany Hill is a party.

He will decline, and then Mr. Grace will trot out his bona-fide choice for Mayor. Perhaps the most significant feature of Mr. Grace's County Convention, and one bearing particularly on the Deal with Mr. Hill, was the absence of talk about a third ticket. Mr. Fairchild and Mr. Grace and Col. Robert Grier Monroe had all said that the third ticket would be definitely decided upon against at the Convention last night, and yet not a word was said openly in the Convention upon that subject. As a matter of fact, the State Democracy leaders agreed, when they agreed to the Deal, to strangle the third ticket movement at once.

No Roast for the Machine.
Another very significant thing about the State Democracy Convention was the absence of comment by the speakers upon the treatment the Grace-Fairchild delegates received at the hands of the machine managers in the Saratoga Convention. It had been expected in view of remarks made by Mr. Fairchild and others, that this Convention, like the meeting of Shepherds in Brooklyn Tuesday night, would voice its indignation at the treatment accorded its delegates. But it had never a word to say on the subject.

There is still a chance that the Committee of Seventy will interfere to spoil the deal by refusing admittance to its conference to the sixty committee-men appointed by the Grace Convention. To-night's meeting will develop what plans, if any, have been devised to confound the Harmony Deceit.

In the mean time Mr. Hill, at the Hotel Normandie, is receiving callers and perfecting other details of his campaign. If he carries this Big Deal through successfully his reputation for political sagacity and as a leader will be enhanced beyond comparison with that of any of his machine predecessors.

A SCARE AT NING-PO.

Japanese Warships Are Reported Only Fifty Miles Away.

Foreigners at Shanghai Getting Their Families Away.

Mikado's Government Said to Be About to Raise a Loan.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—A despatch received here from Shanghai says that native vessels arriving at that place from Ning-Po report that five Japanese warships are lying off the Chusan Islands, fifty miles from Ning-Po. The Japanese ships have no transports.

"EVENING WORLD" WAR MAP.

Up to date, the Japanese have won a great naval battle at the mouth of the Yalu River and a land battle at Yang in Korea. They have landed troops in Manchuria, not far from Kirin, have a force of 5,000 men in Northeastern China, with ships in Pussat Bay, have effected a landing on the Tamsui River, and have a second force of 10,000 men in the Yangtze, threatening Ning-Po. All these landings of troops and proceedings with warships are believed to be part of a comprehensive "On to Peking" campaign.

The presence of the Mikado's ships near Ning-Po has caused a scare at that port, as the few Chinese warships on the coast are obsolete and almost worthless.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 4.—The married officials of the Customs Department at Peking are leaving the city with their families, owing to the unsettled state of affairs and the recent assaults made upon foreigners.

The general anti-foreign feeling which causes much uneasiness continues at New-Chwang and Han-Kow. The foreign residents of the last named treaty port are considering the advisability of sending away the women of their families. A small volunteer corps has been formed among the employees of the Customs Department at Han-Kow, and the foreign residents there, now having separate defenses, are feeling a little easier.

Confidence has also been increased and partly restored by the presence at Han-Kow of the British gunboat Esk, three guns, 323 tons, commanded by Lieut. Arthur H. D. Ravenhill.
BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The Frankfort Zeitung says that the Chinese Minister in London has proposed to the British Government that Russia, Great Britain and France despatch troops to the treaty ports of China in order to protect the interests of foreigners residing there. The Minister is also said to have assured the Government of Great Britain that China would raise no objection to the presence of these troops.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 4.—The Japanese Government has decided upon raising a foreign loan, the amount of which is not yet known.
TOKIO, Oct. 4.—The Italian Minister has obtained a pledge from Japan that her forces will not attack Shanghai.

The Chusan Islands are situated fifty miles east northeast of Ning-Po, off the east coast of China, province of Che-Kiang, opposite the estuary of the Taitung-Kiang.
Ning-Po is a port, open to foreign trade, near the mouth of the Yangtze River. Its population is variously estimated at from 120,000 to 200,000. The city of Ning-Po is six miles in circumference, and is inclosed in walls twenty-five feet high. Ning-Po has an active trade, and exports wood and charcoal largely to Shanghai.

SCOTCH EXPRESS IN A CRASH.

Collided with a Freight and Four Persons Are Injured.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Scotch Express en route to London, collided early this morning with a freight train near North Hallowell. Three passenger cars were derailed and four persons were slightly injured.
Baron Tweedmouth, Baron Hindlip and Postmaster-General Arnold Morley, who were passengers on the express, were shaken up by the collision, but were not hurt.

High Line Steamer Arrives.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 4.—The steamer Triumph arrived yesterday with 1,200 skins taken in hunting sea, making $500 for the season. This is the greatest catch ever made by a pelagic steamer. The Triumph was in hunting sea only forty days.

THE WAR PANIC OVER

British Cabinet Met to Act on Affairs in China.

Troops to Be Sent to Protect the Queen's Subjects There.

French Cabinet Meeting—Madagascar Report a Mistake.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Cabinet meeting called for to-day lasted from noon until 1:30 P. M.
It is understood that a perfect agreement was arrived at respecting the plans submitted for the protection of British residents in China.

It is announced upon authority that the Cabinet decided to send troops to China in order to protect British interests. It is also probable that additional ships will be sent to strengthen the fleet in Chinese waters under the command of Admiral Fremantle.
It is also said that the British Legation at Peking will shortly be guarded by British bluejackets and native Indian soldiers.
The English newspapers have apparently received from the base scare caused among some of them by the hasty calling of the Council. The afternoon papers are now unanimous in expressing the opinion that there is not the slightest need of any anxiety as to a serious dispute with France.
The stock market also recovered this morning from the distress caused by yesterday's rumors about Anglo-French complications in regard to Madagascar.

FRENCH CABINET MEETS.

A Newspaper to Be Prosecuted for Insulting the Army.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Oct. 4.—The French Cabinet met to-day. The Ministers decided to prosecute the Petit Ouvreir, which newspaper recently published an article upon the French Army maneuvers, which is regarded as insulting to the French army.
President Casimir-Perier has signed the decree appointing Baron de Courcel French Ambassador to London, in succession to M. Decrais, who has been recalled.

The Journal des Debats, referring to the war scare in England, says that there is no question between Great Britain and France which cannot be settled amicably.

The Solei declares that Madagascar cannot lead to a conflict between France and Great Britain.

The Matin says it is absurd to suppose that a dispute in regard to Africa affairs, with France, was the reason for summoning the English Cabinet Council.

NO MADAGASCAR BLOCKADE.
Only Landing of Arms for the Hovas Stopped by the French.

(By Associated Press.)
PORT LOUIS, Island of Mauritius, Oct. 4.—The statement that a blockade of the Island of Madagascar had been declared by France was brought here by steamer from Madagascar. The report appears to have been due to a misconstruction of the French measures taken to prevent the landing of arms and ammunition for the Hovas.

The Madagascar papers received here state that the French settlers have been warned by the French Resident to repair to the coast, in view of possible hostilities. The French Bishop and missionaries, however, decline to leave the capital until the latest moment.

BALTIMORE AT THEIR FEET.

But They Will Eat Humble Pie and Play for the Cup Under Temple's Rules.

GIANTS HAILED WITH HOWLS.

Tickets for To-Day's Game at a Premium—Over 15,000 Sold in Advance.

(Special to The Evening World.)
BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 4.—Promptly at 8:30 this morning the car containing the New York team rolled into the station. Half an hour later Capt. Ward was up, and soon the other seventeen members of the party dressed and entered the Eutaw House omnibus. All the team came, including Huyler Westervelt and Stafford.

When told by "The Evening World" correspondent that the Orioles had virtually backed down and the Temple Cup series would undoubtedly be played under the original terms of the deed of gift—that is, 65 per cent to the winner of the majority of the seven games—Capt. Ward said:

"Well, I'm glad they have at last listened to reason."

The boys' luggage was chalked up with mottoes and inspiring words inscribed by New York rovers, and when the bus rattled up Cathedral and Eutaw streets, even at that early hour, their cars were assailed by derisive shouts from the small boys, the street-car men and the small merchants who were opening up their stores.

Certainly the feeling here is most intense. Last night a group of New York newspaper men argued with Hanlon, Harry Von Der Horst, Dan Brothers and others for two hours at the Academy, where the second big benefit performance of the day was being given in the Orioles' honor. Hanlon and Robinson were amenable to argument, but McGraw and Joe Kelley insisted, in parrot fashion, that they were being bullied.

For a time it looked as if there would be no Temple Cup series. To convince the recalcitrant "Evening World" correspondent offered to show them in the files of the Baltimore papers of last Spring the original terms of the Temple Cup deed of gift, as read at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, but Von Der Horst said he did not care for even that ocular proof that there had been no manipulations of the deal.

Before leaving the theatre, however, the Baltimoreans agreed to meet this morning at the Hoffman House, and the fact that the Orioles had played, and that a single seat could be obtained for love or for money, will be a sufficient lever to force the Orioles into playing, and the fact which has been dinned into their ears, that an equal division of the spoils will diminish the interest in the contest, will undoubtedly compel them to agree to the original and only proper arrangement, as laid down by Mr. Temple.

The furnishing stores show silk nightgowns, marked "Presented to Joe Kelley by admirers," and so it is all over town. The pennant-winners almost own the earth, and their arrogance in dealing with the quantities of late receipts is a natural result of this municipal fever.

midnight. That is, that a majority of your players have concluded to play the series as Temple originally designated in his deed of gift, the winner taking 65 per cent of the receipts."

"Well, I guess it will be that way," Hanlon responded slowly and with an air of resignation.

"Do McGraw, Kelley and Gleason still say they won't play unless assured of 50 per cent of the receipts?"

"I believe they do," Hanlon replied.

"Have you heard anything further from Mr. Temple or Messrs. Young and Byrne?"

"For reply, the manager slowly shook his head."

Von Der Horst, who would not listen to argument at all last night, said he understood the Orioles had knocked down and would play the series in accordance with Hanlon's terms, after all.

LAST EDITION.

IS THOMPSON STREET NEXT?

Investigator Goff Apparently Ready to Probe That Locality.

LEXOW AND SAXTON BACK.

"CHOWDER" THUGS AND POLICE.

Banker Meredith Assaulted and Robbed While Vainly Crying for Assistance.

It was expected to-day that the Lexow Committee would follow up the doings of the Essex Market gang, into which the probing operation was so successfully begun yesterday, but the presence in the old General Sessions Court room this morning of a number of stout ladies of color seemed to indicate that the neighborhood of Thompson street might be made the subject of investigation.

Among the police officials in attendance were Capts. Cortright, Slevin and Schultz. The latter seemed to be in a particularly genial humor.

"Some people are getting mad at Goff," he said confidentially, "but it doesn't bother me. If a lawyer gives me a pounding, why I just say to myself, 'It's all right; that's his business.' Such little things don't trouble old salts like me."

"The fact is, my father wanted to make a pass at me, and then they wanted me to learn to play the fiddle. I got away from all of them by running off to sea. And now I'm a Police Captain, see?"

Norbert Pfeffer, the Lexow witness who was threatened with a bullet yesterday in court by ex-Wardman House was on hand. He said that the counsel for the Committee had seventy-five cases of oppression on the list, every one as bad or worse than those of Mrs. Uchitel and Mr. Mauvel, which would no doubt be brought up for consideration.

Pfeffer has made a study of the Essex Market gang, and is well acquainted with its personnel and methods of working. He said that the number of acquaintances who are special victims. He will make one of the most interesting of the cases which he is finally put upon the stand.

Senator Saxton, the Republican candidate for the first time this morning since his nomination. He received the congratulations of a number of acquaintances who happened to drop in before the Committee got to work.

Mr. Moss said that there had been some surprise at the large number of cases. He referred to the cases of Patrolmen Miller and Miller, who were arrested last July for the same offense. There were thirty-two complaints, and the latter twenty-six, as worthy of note.

Police Board's "Consistency."
They had been charged the last time with being in a saloon, leaving their post and being in a saloon. Apparently they were together, yet Miller was only fined three days' pay.

There was nothing in the evidence, which was being read, to show any difference between them or any difference in the charges.

Senator Bradley thought it was very queer, and Mr. Moss said he couldn't explain it. He said that he was absent at the opening case at this point.

The first witness called was Max Moskowitz, of 154 Ridge street, who told about a friend of his who was arrested last July for the same offense. There was a liquor store near by.

Could you see any people going into this saloon?

"There might have been, but I don't notice such things."

The sandwich man, whose name was Isler, was taken to the Union Market station and the witness went with him to go on his bail.

The Sergeant called on my duty returned. Mr. Buttner, paid a man at the door of the saloon, and asked Mr. Buttner as a bondsman for Isler."

Mr. Goff then called William T. Meredith to the stand.

Banker Meredith's Experience.
He said he was a banker at 45 Wall street and resided at 11 West 27th street.

About two weeks ago," said Mr. Meredith, "I was robbed and assaulted. It was about 9:30 P. M. Tuesday, Sept. 3. I had been dining at the Berkeley Hotel and was walking up Fifth avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, in front of the Freshwater Club in Riverside park, and looking back saw a procession coming up the street.

The upper part of the crowd was headed by a man in a dark suit and coat and ran into the crowd. I tried to pursue him, but I was surrounded. One man tripped me up, and when I fell, the others began to pound me. I saw them allow the thief to escape."

"I got up and tried to pursue the thief."
